DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: "122". Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jung (US 6,337,528 B1).

Art Unit: 3618

Jung discloses a skate wheel 2 comprising a pair of anchors 31,32 (or housings) each with recessed inner faces defining a chamber and with open slots for receiving LEDs when the two are joined, a ring-shaped rotor formed by two metal plates 44 each with multiple gaps, induction coil 432 wound about core 431, illuminating devices (or LEDs) 45 each with a pair of terminals (not numbered) connecting the LED to the plates and coil, a stator 42 (or magnet), an axle 21 with protective covering 41 (or tube), and a pair of bearing sleeves 33 fitted into notches of the anchors, as shown in figures 3 and 4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jung, as applied to claims 1 and 2 above.

Jung does not disclose welding the metal plates together. Welding is well-known in the art for securing metal together and therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have welded the metal plates of Jung together in order to provide a strong connection of the rotor metal plates. Further little patentable weight has been given to the method of manufacturing of the rotor unless it produces an unexpected result.
